AGENDA

T-38 Wheel and Brake Improvement

23 April 2003
Bldg 1234, Main Conference Room

7:00 – 7:30 Registration/Refreshments

7:30 – 7:45 Welcome/Introductions

7:45 – 9:00 Open Discussion regarding Draft Solicitation

9:00 – 11:30 Individual Contractor Appointments

Note: Please contact Kathy Goss, Contracting Officer if you wish to schedule a time for individual questions and answers at (801) 777-9346 or e-mail Kathy.goss@hill.af.mil

T-38 WHEEL AND BRAKE IMPROVEMENT

INDUSTRY DAY

Hill Air Force Base Utah
Building 1234, Main Conference Room
23 April 2003

GENERAL INFORMATION

The best airport to fly into to reach Hill Air Force Base is the Salt Lake City International Airport. There are numerous major airlines which service the airport and many flights in and out of the city each day. Once you reach the airport, it's typically a 30-minute drive to the area near Hill Air Force Base. The Layton area is where you'll most likely want to make overnight accommodations. Layton has a number of quality chain hotels and restaurants, and is only about 5-10 minutes away from the base.

TO HILL AIR FORCE BASE

- From Salt Lake City International Airport

  *Shortly after exiting the airport, take I-80 East and stay in the right lane.
  *Follow I-80 East and then take the Ogden/Provo exit.
  *Continue a very short distance and then take the Ogden exit
  *This road will merge into I-215 heading north.
  *Continue until it merges into I-15.
  *Continue on I-15 North (towards Ogden) for approximately 25 miles.
  *Take the Clearfield/Sunset exit (exit 338) and veer right towards the base (two large missiles will be in sight).
  *Approach the gate but, if not cleared for the base, turn right into the Visitors Center just prior to entering the base.
  *Go inside the visitor Center to ask for a temporary pass (you'll need ID and proof of insurance).
  *Once you've secured your pass, turn back onto the main road and approach the gate.
  *Show the Guard your pass at the gate, and he will wave you into the base.
  *Follow this road for only about 200 yards then turn left on Fir Avenue.
  *Bldg 1233 is the seventh building traveling north; parking is available in this area.
  *Enter the building at the West, center door.
  *Meeting will be held in the main conference room to the left.